Required information for approval of psychology courses while on exchange

• How many courses/credits per semester do students study in a standard full-time load at your exchange university:

• How many credit points in Psychology will you have completed before you leave for exchange:
  Junior:    Intermediate:     Senior:

• How many and which specific courses (if any) do you still need to complete here or on exchange to meet the requirements for your degree/qualify for Honours entry (check requirements below)?

Junior Psychology units required for progression to Intermediate Psychology: both PSYC1001 and PSYC1002
Tick units completed at the University of Sydney, or indicate semester to be completed:
  □ PSYC1001 - Psychology 1001
  □ PSYC1002 - Psychology 1002

Intermediate Psychology units required for major in Psychology:  24 CPs in Intermediate Psychology (PSYC2011, PSYC2012, PSYC2013, PSYC2014), with a minimum of 18 CPs completed at the University of Sydney (i.e. not on exchange). If you want to do the equivalent to one of our Intermediate units while you are on exchange, it must be a close equivalent to the unit offered at the University of Sydney.
Tick units completed at the University of Sydney, or indicate semester to be completed:
  □ PSYC2011 - Brain and Behaviour
  □ PSYC2012 - Statistics & Research Methods for Psychology
  □ PSYC2013 - Cognitive, Developmental and Social Psychology
  □ PSYC2014 - Personality and Intelligence 1
Senior psychology requirements for major in Psychology: These depend on your degree, and on whether you want to be eligible for entry to Psychology Honours.

Required Senior Psychology for students seeking a Major in Psychology but NOT proceeding to Honours: 24 CPs in Psychology including PSYC3018, with a minimum of 12 CPs completed at University of Sydney. If only 12 CPs completed at the University of Sydney, 6 CPs on exchange need to be equivalent to a Senior Unit at the University of Sydney.

Required Senior Psychology for students seeking a Major in Psychology WITH eligibility for Honours: 24 CPs in Psychology including PSYC3018 and PSYC3010 or close equivalents overseas, with a minimum of 18 CPs completed at University of Sydney. If you intend to choose the Honours Theoretical Thesis option during your Honours year, you will need to do HPSC3023 History and Philosophy of Psychology & Psychiatry at the University of Sydney, with no overseas equivalent option approved as a prerequisite for the Honours Theoretical Thesis.

Required Senior Psychology for students enrolled in the Bachelor of Psychology degrees: 30 CPs in Psychology including PSYC3018 and PSYC3010 or close equivalents overseas, with a minimum of 18 CPs completed at University of Sydney. If only 18 CPs completed at the University of Sydney, 6 CPs on exchange need to be equivalent to a Senior Unit at the University of Sydney. If you intend to choose the Honours Theoretical Thesis option during Honours, you will need to do HPSC3023 History and Philosophy of Psychology & Psychiatry at the University of Sydney, with no overseas equivalent option approved as a prerequisite for the Honours Theoretical Thesis.

Tick units completed at the University of Sydney, or indicate semester to be completed (italics show prerequisites for Major PSYC3018, Honours PSYC 3010, and Honours Theoretical Thesis HPSC3023):

Academic approvals required from University of Sydney Psychology Unit Co-ordinators

1. Do you need the syllabus of one or more psychology courses offered at your exchange university to be checked by the Unit Co-ordinator of a similar University of Sydney course? YES/NO

   - To the unit co-ordinator: Please check this course ________________________________
   - for equivalence with our unit of study ________________________________
   - because the student is required to complete a close equivalent to this unit while on exchange.

2. Are you planning to do a course on exchange that overlaps with a unit of study already completed at the University of Sydney?

   - To the unit co-ordinator: Please advise whether there is too much overlap between the student’s intended course overseas ________________________________ and our unit ________________________________ already completed at the University of Sydney.
